The week in one paragraph. The acquisition engine is now live end to end — new website shipped, four Google campaigns and Meta CTWA running, audiences loaded in both ad accounts, 19,500+ organic pages indexing. The binding constraint has moved from infrastructure to creative assets: one hiring decision (in-house designer) unlocks TikTok, the Meta refresh and the organic cadence. The ZAVIS paid pilot goes live today — landing page up, ads expected by end of day — with the Smile Club fortnight pilot and the corporate channel (warm doors) queued behind it. Three decisions sit with you overleaf.

Movement since 11 September

- Website live. New dentalnation.com shipped (W3Layouts); ad copy and Instagram templates updated. Remaining: physical signage, Google profile rename.
- Paid engine live. Google — Calls & Bookings, SOS Emergency, DN Ortho, PMax; Meta — click-to-WhatsApp. Lookalike and customer-match audiences loaded in both accounts.
- First off-page backlink live (ZAVIS). The W3Layouts case study on the Dental Nation website build, published 5 Sep, links back to dentalnation.com — the first deployed piece of the backlink programme. See the link on page 2.
- Pilot go-live imminent. The pilot landing page is live (dentalnation.com/en/ads/Teeth-Whitening-Dubai); ZAVIS's paid ads are expected live today, end of day.
- ArabyAds resolved. Their concerns closed; relaunch expected this week — pre-launch alignment meeting requested first (your calendar).
- Butter Media. Meeting with Husain tomorrow, 16 Sep, to scope their role in the paid mix.
- Smile Club plan hardened. External review applied: pilot-first, offer economics and clinic capacity as expansion gates; fortnight pilot starts on Gautam's baseline (due 16 Sep). Corporate discovery opens through warm doors (Michael Page HR contact, RBS).
- Reviews grown honestly, 40 → 60 at 4.9★. Google's spam filter removed 19 solicited reviews on 13–14 Sep (incl. one from a staff account — now prohibited); pacing rules issued to the front desk. Detail on page 3.
- Dashboard revamped as the single source of truth. Live outcome tiles, all 15 projects re-statused, stale tasks cleared, and two interactive briefings built for you: the retail → dental Operating Model and the ZAVIS Marketing OS explorer.
- New inbound. A party approached offering to sell a domain (12 Sep) — under evaluation, no commitment.

Three decisions for Mr Akbar

1. In-house designer (by 19 Sep). Interviews are done; nobody cleared the bar. Approve proceeding with the best of the shortlist, or a new sourcing round. Every blocked lane on page 2 traces to this role.
2. Server capacity (by 19 Sep). The AI Website Concierge and the development environment are finished software sitting offline — the current server is fully occupied by the five live platforms. Capacity, not build time, brings them back.
3. ArabyAds pre-launch meeting (this week). Their concerns are resolved and they are ready to go live; the alignment meeting you and I discussed should happen before spend restarts.

Standing items with you

- Zoho access conversation with Jawad (unlocks procurement + gross-profit reporting)
- PR article review (Ms Shadi) · Digital24 engagement (USD 500)

Waiting on others

- Gautam — Smile Club baseline (enrolments, plan mix, usage, cancellations). Due 16 Sep; the pilot cannot start without it.
- Dr Luvi — four governance documents (SOPs, audit records, training log, governance chart), sign-off on seven drafted capability write-ups, two commission files. Data Drop lane ready.
- Domain seller — domain name and asking price.
- Husain (Butter Media) — meeting tomorrow, 16 Sep; scope + commercials from there.

Watch-out, told straight: the review sweep

Google removed 19 of our reviews on 13–14 Sep. Our sync data shows they are deleted, not pending. Triggers we identified in the removed set: a burst of 35 five-star reviews in two weeks (10 in one day), one review posted from a staff account, and one copy-pasted text naming another business. The sweep also took genuine reviews — that is the real cost of bursts. New rules issued: no staff accounts ever, 1–3 asks per day, patients post in their own words from their own phones. The public profile stands at 60 reviews, 4.9★, up from 40 — real, defensible growth, and the team now measures against the public count only.

Why this matters: the dashboard caught the discrepancy within a day and we corrected the headline before anyone quoted it. The reporting system is doing its job — honest numbers, even when they are smaller.
